Tourists Can Get Prizes

Tourists from all over the world have been invited to participate in Israel's first annual photographic contest, the Government Tourist Centre has announced. The contest, which ends on November 30, is open to all amateur photographers visiting the country.

A board in New York will judge photos by visitors from the Americas while a panel in Paris will weigh the work of tourists from Europe. Prize-winning snaps will be exhibited in both the above cities and in Jerusalem.

Monthly photography contests have also been inaugurated by tourist centres in permanent tourist centres. It was announced. Entries for the monthly contest must be submitted before the 15th of each month with the tourist centre offices in the three main cities. Those coming later will be held over to the next month. All entries sent by November 30 will be considered for the "Eyes on Israel" International Photography competition.
